

Further Reading*Interactive speaking

Interactive speaking is a key aspect of language learning, emphasizing spontaneity, turn-taking, and real-world application. The following are some of the characteristics of interactive speaking skills:

Spontaneity – Responses are unplanned and require quick thinking.

Turn-taking – Conversations involve listening and responding appropriately.

Negotiation of Meaning – Speakers ask for clarification or confirm understanding.

Fluency Over Accuracy – Communication is prioritized over perfect grammar.

Use of Non-verbal Cues – Gestures, facial expressions, and tone help convey meaning.